DOVE HUNTING

Bolivia

Our Bolivia dove hunting packages include a 3-day or 4-day all-inclusive hunt of high-volume doves. Our lodge is located on approximately one million farming acres of land and experience approximately thirty million migratory doves between the months of April to October. The dove population in Bolivia has increased rapidly over the past ten years parallel to the boom of the agricultural industry. It is estimated that fifty to sixty million doves annually arrive in Bolivia attracted by the newly cultivated food sources.

Bolivia does not place a numerical limit on the number of doves that can be hunted. In fact, our lodge provides assistance and protection to area crops and the local community by hunting the doves.

Typically, arrivals to Santa Cruz from the US are early morning flights. This allows for a ½ day hunt upon arrival and a ½ day hunt on departure day with full days of hunting in between.

Hunts in April – early August, you will have 2 hunts per day and will come back to the lodge for lunch in the afternoon with a little downtime. Hunts in August -October, the hunt will be all day with a field lunch instead.

While hunting in Bolivia, you will have at least one afternoon of pigeon hunting which is always a guest favorite.

THINGS TO KNOW

Flights - The preferred flights to Santa Cruz are on BOA direct from Miami to Santa Cruz (easiest to book through Orbits or Kayak) or on Copa which has a stop in Panama.

Santa Cruz - Santa Cruz is a neat city. If you would like to add on a night or 2 in the city, we can arrange this on your behalf along with restaurant reservations and recommendations including Botanica and Sir Piper which are both owned by the outfitter's family and is just blocks away from the hotels.

Daily laundry service is available at the lodge for no additional charge.

The lodge runs 220 volts and adaptors are needed to plug in phones and computers. These are easily purchased on Amazon or typically available at Target/Walmart.

While everywhere in Bolivia takes $US but they are required to be crisp with NO rips or writing on them. Please be sure to plan accordingly.

Bird boys average $50/day for gratuity and house staff $40-$50. The bird boys' gratuity can be given directly to them on your final day of hunting and upon check out with the chief, they will take the house staff gratuities to be divided amongst the cleaning crew, cooks, etc.
